

Leaders for Life - Teen Leadership Camps

This page contains a selection of comments from our campers about their Leadership experience.

"L4L is the bridge btw. who you are and who you want to be" - Greg

"Leaders for Life inspired me to take initiative to achieve my own potential" - Casey

"Being a leader for life means for me that I can now show my true self to the world" - Stephen

"I have the courage to work for my dreams and inspire those around you to work for theirs" - Katie

"Being a Leader for Life means I have the courage to share inspiration with others. Being open minded and always optimistic and positive, while being a part of a family with a bond that can never be broken" - Erika

"That I can reach beyond where I had ever thought possible in order to leave my mark on the world" - Laura

"Inspiring others to be the best they can and believing in myself to reach my dreams" - Lindsey

"Being a leader for life means making new friends that will last a lifetime" - Justin

"Being a leader for life for me means becoming more open and being a good role model" - Heather

"At camp I discovered the power to go beyond my dreams with courage and no negativity. The love and openness for myself and others through encouragement. The key to open any soul or heart with motivation and determination. The power to live life to it's fullest. The power to influence others in whatever they wish to accomplish. That is leaders for life" - Laura

"My ability to express who I am and my ability to set an example for those who are searching to be" - Casey

"Camp inspires people to be more open, trusting and confident" - Alex

The results are impressive:

- Inspiring Others: 12 Leaders Become Workshop Presenters at a National Leadership Conference in Chicago.
- Discovering Courage: Megan wins Rotary Scholarship to study in Japan. "When I think of L4L, I realize I was reborn into the person I always wanted to be!"
- Unifying Power to Act: Students from many schools join together supporting Children's Miracle Network, creating projects and having fun after camp.
- Influencing Others: One student shares his experience with Model UN while at camp and the idea spreads and new programs are created in area schools.
- Following his Passion: Alex becomes Editor of his school newspaper.
- Creating legacies: Leaders have written songs and published stories about their camp experiences.
- Sharing the power of camp: Katie wins a scholarship for college after writing an essay about camp!
- Generating projects: Kristen creates a project involving over 100 students and teachers.
- Adrienne and Maggy create a club at school: "SHOW"- "Students Helping Others Worldwide" and inspire other teens to actively care about worldwide issues.

Camper comments...

Extremely fun, it opens your eyes and your heart. You come in an entirely different person than when you leave. It's great for making friends and learning about yourself.

It was the best thing I have ever done in my whole life. I made new friends and enjoyed myself while learning about myself and others.

Wow, camp was such an amazing experience. You start out meeting new people who, through activities and spending time together, become like your family, and by the end it is so hard to leave.

My camp experience was a turning point in my life. I had the best times with people I had only known for a few days. Camp was a 100% positive experience for me... I absolutely loved it!

First Year Camp Held at Hamilton College, Clinton, NY in July AND Camp Cheley, Estes Park, CO in August.

At Hamilton College, experience living at a prestigious college campus. Experience delicious buffet style meals in their dining hall. Recreational activities include challenge course and swimming pool.

At Camp Cheley, experience the majestic mountaintop views and reside in cabins that sleep 8-12 students. Experience family style meals! Recreational activities include a group mountain climb.

Students are assigned to small "core" groups that meet throughout the week. Every day a varied schedule with exciting small and large group activities enhance teen leadership skills.

Returnee's Camp Advanced Program will be held at Camp Cheley, Estes Park. Leaders who have participated in previous Leaders for Life Camps at Hamilton College will travel to Colorado and expand their leadership skills. Students build upon their leadership skills developed from their first year experience at camp. New friendships grow and old friendships are rekindled as they share success stories and strengthen community commitments to being a leader for life.

Both 6 day camps provide students with many opportunities to learn from others who believe in the possibility of a dream. Each staff member shares expertise that inspires teens to take action to reach their goals. Teens leave with connections that last beyond the week of camp, ideas to explore, projects to implement in their school and community and a renewed sense of focus and confidence.

Each camp includes housing, meals, facility use, supplies, and programming for $595.

Camp Cheley, Estes Park, Colorado

At Leaders for Life, our staff is trained to implement programs that inspire teens to make a positive difference in their community. Through innovative activities, teens embrace their strengths and enhance their creative solution-making abilities. By discovering strategies that enhance their life, teens leave camp with a renewed sense of commitment to their future. Teens stay connected after camp!
